Llamas, Alpacas, and Dogs - OH MY!

Highlights of Peru 2012

By Emily White
Traveling around the world is an amazing experience in itself, but getting to go with best friends and getting close to new ones was an added bonus!
There were many opportunities to try new things in Peru. We ate Pan de Anis, the traditional bread in Peru. Along with this, we tried Chifa, Peruvian Chinese food. We also tried new meats like guinea pig and alpaca!
Horseback riding through Cusco with my horse Sunflower was absolutely beautiful and a really fun time! Also, getting to feed llamas and alpacas was so entertaining!
Being a Roman Catholic, it was amazing to looking at the churches and learn how Catholicism came to Peru with Francisco Pizarro.
Symmetry was very common in structures.

Agricultural Irrigation

Water Temples

Circle Terraces of Moray
The Hikes
Machu Picchu Views