Bienvenida a Peru

Spring Break 2012
By: Kelsey Rutledge
Traditional Peruvian Bread called Pan de Anis.

The Food

Alpaca Pizza: Alpaca have many different uses in Peru including food.

Coca Tea: coca leaves can be chewed or put into tea to help relieve effects of altitude sickness.

Guinea pig is considered a traditional meal to the people of Peru.
The sites

- Sun dial
- Some of many terraces
- One of many water temples
- Saqsaywaman
The circle terraces of Murray

The view of Machu Picchu from Huayna Picchu.

The sites
There were many lizards at the top of Huayna Picchu due to all the bugs up there.

Me and my horse Biscuit that took me on a tour of Cusco.

Llama and Alpaca are a very important part of Peruvian culture and have many different uses.

There were many dogs all over Peru, many of them would start to follow us probably hoping to get a little food.
The friends