THE INCAN CAPITAL, CUZCO!!

BY: ALEX ENNIS
Cuzco had a lot of Beautiful Structures
This is a typical view down a street in Cuzco. The whole town was extremely clean!
Here is the main square, with half of the family!
The driving there was crazy!! They love to use their horns!!!
This is a show that we went to in Cuzco. It was extremely entertaining and fun to watch!!
This is the first meal in Cuzco. I would have to say it was AMAZING and only 15 soles!!
These were both taken in the Cuzco Market. right next to each other!! The picture on the right is where I bought juice. She didn’t speak English but I got the impression that we were friends!! =)
Paddy’s Pub is the highest, 100% Irish owned pub on the planet at 11156 ft.
This is Norton Rat’s Pub. It was a great place to order food and look out over the main square.
This is the Cathedral in the main square. It seemed to be one of the main structures in Cuzco.
Corner Suite!!!!!!
